The story was distributed on a national network (CBS).

The station said the first shot struck the President and Connally, who now has recovered from his wounds. The second shot fatally wounded the President and the third bullet went harmlessly into the gutter and was never found, it said.

The story said the bullets were fired from the Texas Schoolbook Depository. Officials have stated flatly in their charges against accused assas sin Lee Harvey Oswald that he fired the shots from a sixthfloor window of the building.

If the first shot had struck President Kennedy a fraction of an inch lower, the force of the bullet probably would have knocked him to the floor of the limousine and the second shot would have missed him, KRLD

"It has been further learned that expert medical testimony in the commission's report will show that chances for the Pres ident's recovery from the first have been excellent." This has been reported before.

The first bullet struck both men, the television station said. It entered the body of the late President just above the right collar bone and exited from the neck just to the right of his tie knot, then entered Connally's body just above the fifth rib and finally embedded itself in

But after what the Eastern wing of the GOP has said of him and done to him, it seems highly unlikely that he will exert himself in its behalf. California will be particularly susceptible to a stay in on Election Day in November This is why the rejection of Barry Goldwater next Tuesday should it come, will mean the split-up of the Republican Party as we know it. This makes Cali fornia the key state in the battle. It is a curious battle in which a man with over 500 dele gates is facing another man with a handful - and no chance to win - with the outcome still undecided. Under other circumstances, and given more cash in the Goldwater campaign exchequer, the bandwagon would now have been well nigh unstop-

and the one man so far with a clear shot at the nomination finds himself on the defensive in a state that has a substantial conservative vote. being carried on by Mr. Rockefeller and his aides - which is now resorting to some pretty nasty name calling - can only benefit the Democrats. The slick organizational techniques being employed here may succeed in wiping away Senator Goldwa ter's small lead. But it will guarantee a conservative backlash

CONSERVATIVE Republicans here talk bitterly of the "Wall Street kingmakers" and the 'Eastern liberals' who have maintained a stranglehold on the GOP for these many years. The spectacle of a Nelson Rockefeller, the archetype of the Eastern group, attacking Mr. Goldwater and all conservatives as if they were not fit to remain in the Republican Party will have serious repercussions in November. A number of liberal Republicans, with Senator Jacob Javits of New York taking the lead have threatened to sit on their hands if Mr. Goldwater is nominated - and this gives the conservatives justification for doing just that if an Eastern liberal gets the nomination.

In Curious Battle

Politicians who promise Utopia, come as a matter of right, whetha land without work, where everyone does exactly what he wants to do and nothing else, and yet has a good living, know the truth is not in them but they care nothing for that as long as people are gullible enough to believe them and vote for them.

It is not strange that those who want and expect to ride the "gravy train" all their lives cast their ballots for those who base their campaigns on giveaways. The strange thing is that millions of working people also seem to think all of the laws of economics can be violated and that something can be created from nothing - that everybody can live on what someone else produces. But who is the

"someone else?" You, most likely. Most of us are familiar with the old quotation that "man shall live by the sweat of his brow." Of course, modern methods and airconditioning have changed that somewhat, so that a man may not need to sweat much in order to earn a living, but to produce and improve we must work and nature's law of supply and demand has rather firmly fixed it so that it is incumbent upon everyone to work if he is able, so that he may have food and clothing. It seems to be a good provision, for few are able to live adequate and satisfactory lives unless they work.

President Johnson, with his "war on poverty," seems to be trying to outdo the late Governor and Senator Huey P. Long, who promised to make "every man a king," and the late President John F. Kennedy, who tried to make his New Frontier a mecca for morons and marauders - in other words, incapable or shiftless people who had no intention or desire to work. Great oaks from little acorns grow, so we will start with the small part of this editorial and hope it will grow as it goes along.

Writing to his constituents, Representative Jim Wright of Texas described a dangerous but somewhat humorous scene in Washington-area traffic.

He wrote:

"Each weekday morning, downtown Washington is a surging, churning, honking tidal wave of automobiles. While crossing the Potomac on Memorial bridge, I saw an incredible sight. In the midst of the swirling mass of gleaming steel and squalling rubber was a well-dressed man on a bicycle. Unbroken lines of cars whizzed past him on both sides, while another line fretted impatiently, 10 feet behind him, apparently ready to swallow him up if he dared slow down. He peddeled like a mad man, his life literally depending on it."

There are always two sides to every question and the best way to prove it is to ride a bicycle part of the time and to ride in an automobile part of the time. When you are on the bicycle you feel you have as much right to the highway as anyone else and you also feel that the automobiles and their drivers are a bunch of monstrous, evil attackers, enraged at your being in their way and ready to ride you down if you swerve an inch off course. When you are in a car the man on the bicycle becomes a nuisance, a pest, who is risking his own life and confronting you with the possibility of a heavy personal injury suit if he loses his balance and falls. You'll get away from him if you can, but if you can't you alternately gnash your teeth and pray until he turns

DEAR DR. STEINCROHN: My wife's a nag, bless her! If she weren't I'd be dead. She nagged me into seeing our doctor in time. In fact, she brought him out to the house to see me, even though I threatened to leave her if she did. (My indigestion turned out to be a coronary.) I wish more men would appreciate how important their wives are in keeping them healthy and alive. - Mr. C Comment: Your experience underlines the importance of the wife and mother in keeping her family together. I've said often that every wife is a potential Florence Nightingale. From the dmonition "Don't forget to put on your rubbers" to the actual nursing of the sick one in the family, the wife is the doctor's first assistant. She contributes to preventive medicine and she nurses her family back to

HOW MANY TIMES has a husband actually been dragged to my office by the ear for what he termed his wife's "silly fears" - and learned to his sur prise that he was seriously ill. Women often have a sixth sense where illness is concern-

For example: I recall the man who was actually angry at his wife for nagging him into an appointment during his busy season. "I'm old enough to take enough, ves. But obstinate, too. He had lost over 20 pounds, and admitted that he got through the day on will power, because he felt so exhausted

His wife's nagging was instrumental in the discovery of advanced diabetes and acidosis. He was not too far away from having diabetic coma. Every doctor sees hundreds of examples each year where a wife's nagging saved her husband from being shuffled off prematurely.

Now, tonight, after all these years, my husband said our son had teeth like a gopher. All the pent up hurt and guilt came pouring out; I cried and cried. Isn't it a medical problem when it affects our son's personality? Can these two buck teeth be extracted and a bridge put in? We are not happy with our own dentist. We live in Los Angeles. If you could help, we'd be so grateful. - Mrs. X.

Comment: When not happy with a physician or dentist I suggest either consultation or change. In your case, living in a large city, you should have no difficulty finding a suitable dentist. Just call the secretary of your local dental society, and he will give you a list of men interested in your son's dental problem. This time I hope nothing interferes with proper management. He's at an age when something has to be done pretty quick. Straighten out his dental problem and there's still time to straighten out his personality.

DEAR DR. STEINCROHN: I have had infectious mononucle shall I do? - Mrs. M.

Three Games On Tap Today In New League

The West Monroe Boy's Club Baseball League will have its grand opening today at the Southside Dixie Youth ball park.

Three games will be played in succession. The first game starting at 12 will pit the Athletics, coached by Frank Machen, against the Red Sox, coached by L. E.

Following at 1:45, the Cardinals battle the Giants. The Cardinals are coached by Randy Wilbanks and the Giants by C. A. Estess.

At 3:30, Bill Barton's Colt 45's will play the Dodgers, coached by Robert Sills.

"All kids are looking forward to the league and everyone is invited to watch them play the first game of their life. Practically none of the boys have ever play-ed organized baseball be-fore," said Boy's Club Director, Lloyd Williams. The league is co-sponsor ed by Dixie Youth Baseball of West Monroe and the Boy's Club. All games will be played on Saturday afternoon and Wednesday night until the middle of July.

Rivals Carry Golfing Feud To Extremes

WILMINGTON, Del. (Special) - Paul DiSabatino and his brother - in - law Monty Carbone of Monroe, have been golfing rivals for years. But their performance last week on the Wilmington Country Club's South Course was carrying it too far.

DiSabatino, of 1501 Talley Road, Beachwold, scored the season's first hole-in-one on the South Course last Wednesday

It was also his first ace in 45 years of golf.

The shot, made with a No. 5 wood on the 172-yard 13th hole against the wind, was witnessed by Dr. James Kerrigan, Maurice DiSabation and Dr. James Paradise.

Friday Carbone arrived here for a visit. Di-

NATIONAL BANK

2289 Louisville Ave., Monroe, in the Twin City Shopping Center

You Are Cordially Invited To Attend Our OPEN HOUSE

Saturday, May 30, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Sunday, May 31, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we announce the completion of our office in Monroe, the most important step we have taken since moving into our main office in West Monroe in 1959.

The steady and phenominal growth of The First National Bank since its founding in 1953 has, of course, been a matter of great satisfaction to all of us concerned with its management and operation. We believe, too, that the entire Ouachita Parish area joins in our pride of accomplishment, and we extend our grateful thanks to you our customers.

The decision to establish an office in Monroe was made only after much study and deliberation and was based largely upon numerous requests by residents of Monroe that we do so in order to provide easier access to The First National's banking facilities.

In constructing our new office building in Monroe we have devoted much effort and study to its beauty and convenience of operation. We sincerely hope you will visit the new office Saturday and Sunday.

THE NEW OFFICE WILL BE OPEN FOR BUSINESS MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1964
